We have reviewed the Preliminary Draft Master Plan for Canberra Airport and confirm our support of the Vision and Objectives in the report, namely -

- The improvement of the services and facilities more befitting the nations capital and the developing region.
- The creation of long term capacity to expand and support Australia's grow with time.
- The improvement of the existing transport infrastructure of the city, through new roads, parking and local and interstate public transport services such as the fast train.
- The development of the capacity to reduce in the demands on the overburdened Sydney Airport facilities.
- The continuation of the growth of employment and increased job opportunities both within the Airport itself and in the support services that serve it.

These key outcomes can be achieved, as has been have been demonstrated in the plan, without detrimental effects on the people of Canberra and the region and on the environment as long as the proposed flight corridors remain undeveloped.

In a country of Australia's vast size there is no reason to limit the regions growth and future generations of resident's quality of life by allowing residential development under current or future flight paths.
