Safe travels this Christmas with thanks to Good360

Passengers arriving at Canberra Airport this holiday period will be reminded of the importance of keeping safe this Christmas, with free individual hand sanitisers available thanks to Good360 Australia.

Good360 have found themselves with an oversupply of hand sanitisers and have been working with local charities, schools and community groups to help keep people safe at Christmas events, and this will now extend to travellers arriving at Canberra Airport.

Canberra Airport Managing Director and The Snow Foundation Director, Stephen Byron said it is great to be able to work with one of our Snow Foundation partners, Good360.

“The Foundation has been working with Good360 since 2013 and works with them in achieving their goal of matching brand-new, spare products from well-known companies to not-for-profits and schools who need them most. Good360 has matched over 17 million brand-new items to people in need.

“We, together with Good360, would like to wish everyone safe travels this festive season. It is wonderful that we can freely travel across the country and reconnect with family and friends. Which is exactly what we all need right now.” Mr Byron said.

“Everyone needs to feel safe this holiday period and through our partnership with the Snow Foundation, we are pleased to be able to collaborate, and offer free hand sanitiser to ACT travellers at the Canberra Airport. It has been a difficult year for everyone and we hope that everyone stays safe over the festive season” said Alison Covington, Good360 Founder & Managing Director.

The FREE sanitiser is available in the ground floor arrivals hall at the Airport Terminal.
